NEWTONIAN

FOREWORD

We have spent three years on our voyage through Newton High School. Often we had smooth sailing; but many a time, we had to plow through rough waters. Much had to be accomplished, yet our sturdy crew, guided by its teachers, met and overcame the obstacles of the high seas.

A happy journey it was, for we sailed with eager hearts and keen minds, making new friends and acquiring greater knowledge. The many tacks of our voyage are recorded in this Newtonian.

S.S. NEWTON HIGH

DEDICATION

Six years ago, the most disastrous war of world history was brought to an end, but fighting still exists in too many parts of the world. There is even talk about a third world war. We graduates of the class of 1951 either will be citizens of a united world or will be victims of a universal disaster. It seems fitting, therefore, that we, the editors of the Newtonian, dedicate this yearbook to world peace, in the hope that the youth of today may live unmolested by the catastrophes of war.

IN APPRECIATION

MISS RUTH C. WISE is retiring this year from her position as principal's secretary. She has served Newton High School faithfully since 1909 and during this time has worked with five different principals. Through her years of experience here and her work with pupils' records, Miss Wise probably has come to know Newton High School and its pupils better than anyone else. We thank her for all that she has done for us.

This group met to further the members' interest in literature and to give them an opportunity to discuss and study the current trends in literature with others who have the same interest. Not only books, but also radio and television programs, movies, and plays based on literature were reviewed. These sophomores looked forward particularly to the short story contest, held in early spring, which many of them entered.

No, you don't have to be a promising Einstein to belong to this club, in fact Mr. E. was once the school dunce. All that's required is an interest in math. For activities this year, there was a trip to Babson Institute, a talk on the powers of the number two by Professor Charles Ransom of Tufts, a May party, and even a discussion on the laws of chance which ended in a pitching-pennies contest to test the accepted facts. The members learned more about math, discovered interesting phenomena for solving problems, and practiced recreational math.

 Secretary Miriam Gorn

 Adviser Miss Rosalind Glickman

The art appreciators of Newton High School met monthly to discuss and work at the many types of art. One of the meetings this year, which was of great interest to the group, was devoted to ceramics. Another was spent in drawing to music, bringing out the individual expression that can be achieved by this method. The club not only pursued its own interests, but it was also a service club, making posters for various organizations in the school. The members enjoyed themselves and worked hard to perfect their abilities.

The Anti-Smoking Committee has expanded once more with an even larger membership this year. Fifty-six boys and girls were chosen from over six hundred applicants and have cooperated in trying to abolish the dangers of school fires. Upon presenting their special identification cards, they may leave any class to perform their duties. These consist of going to the various places in the school buildings where there is a possibility of smoking. By executing their job conscientiously they have made progress towards complete safety from fire for Newton High School.

CAMERA CLUB

President	Bernard Martin
Vice-President	William Godfrey
Secretary	Henry Dormitzer
Treasurer	Donald Sherman
Adviser	Mr. Sterling Williams

For those interested in photography, the Camera Club offered numerous opportunities. The club was divided into two groups: the advanced amateurs and the beginners. In this way everyone in the club enjoyed the full value of the activities, and the beginners did not hold back the more advanced students. Among the monthly activities were several lectures, movies, visits to local studios, and discussions concerning the mechanics of photography. One lecture of particular interest to the group was that given by Dr. Land about the box camera. The Camera Club also sponsored a contest, took pictures of models, and rounded out the year with a party.

The Aviation Club has had a varied program covering all aspects of aviation. The boys themselves planned for their own meetings with talks by various members of the club. Talks have been given on the physical construction of planes, controlling methods, and navigation procedures. Recently, the club has taken an interest in the newer field of jet power. The members have also been shown various movies on air travel. The group carried on a very interesting project in actually constructing model airplanes. This year the club gained practical knowledge from their trip to Squantum Naval Air Base.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

Adviser	Mr. J. C. Hall

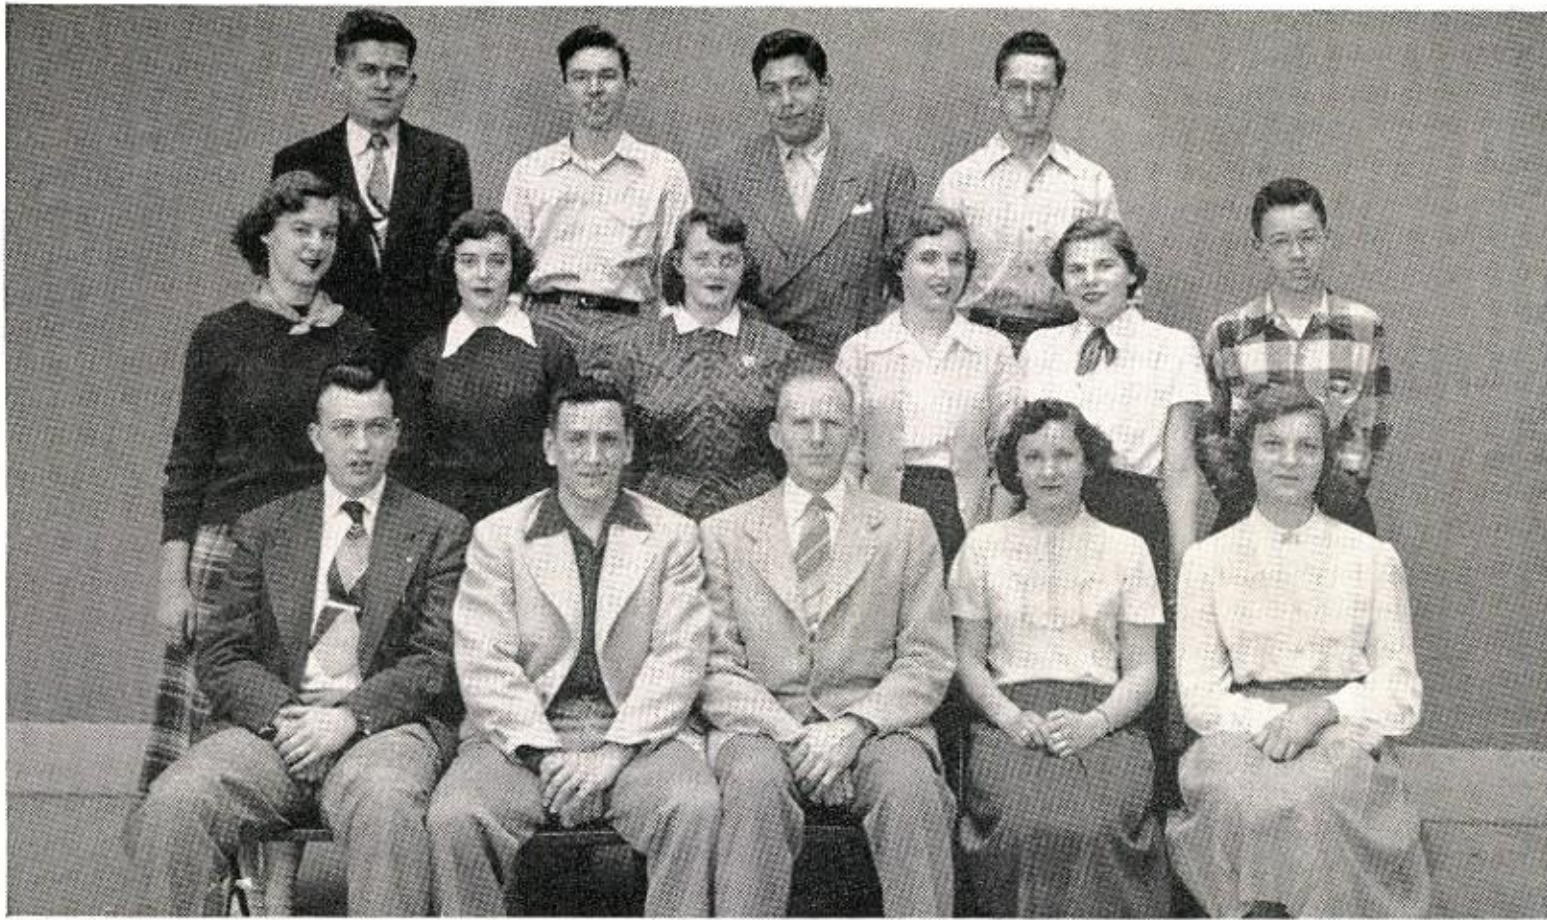

The Chemistry Club consists of a hand-picked group of students who are interested in chemistry. Besides working on projects in groups of four, the Club enjoyed the usual series of informative lectures and field trips. Their activities were not all work by any means; they had a wonderful time at their annual picnic. Their contribution to the annual Science Fair was very interesting and well received.

Heads up — shoulders back — legs! Look at that strawberry roan go! To most, these terms are Greek, but not to the members of the Cavalry Club. Only those with an adequate amount of riding experience are permitted to join the club. Every month, fall, winter, or spring, there was a ride for those who wanted to go. Other activities of the club included discussions on riding etiquette, form, and such things as jumping, polo, and other mounted games. The club also heard from noted equestrians and ended the year with an all-day outing.

ENGLISH CLUB

President	Martha Goldberg
Vice-President	Patricia Littlefield
Secretary	Ruth Johnston
Treasurer	John Pierce
Adviser	Miss Irene Haworth

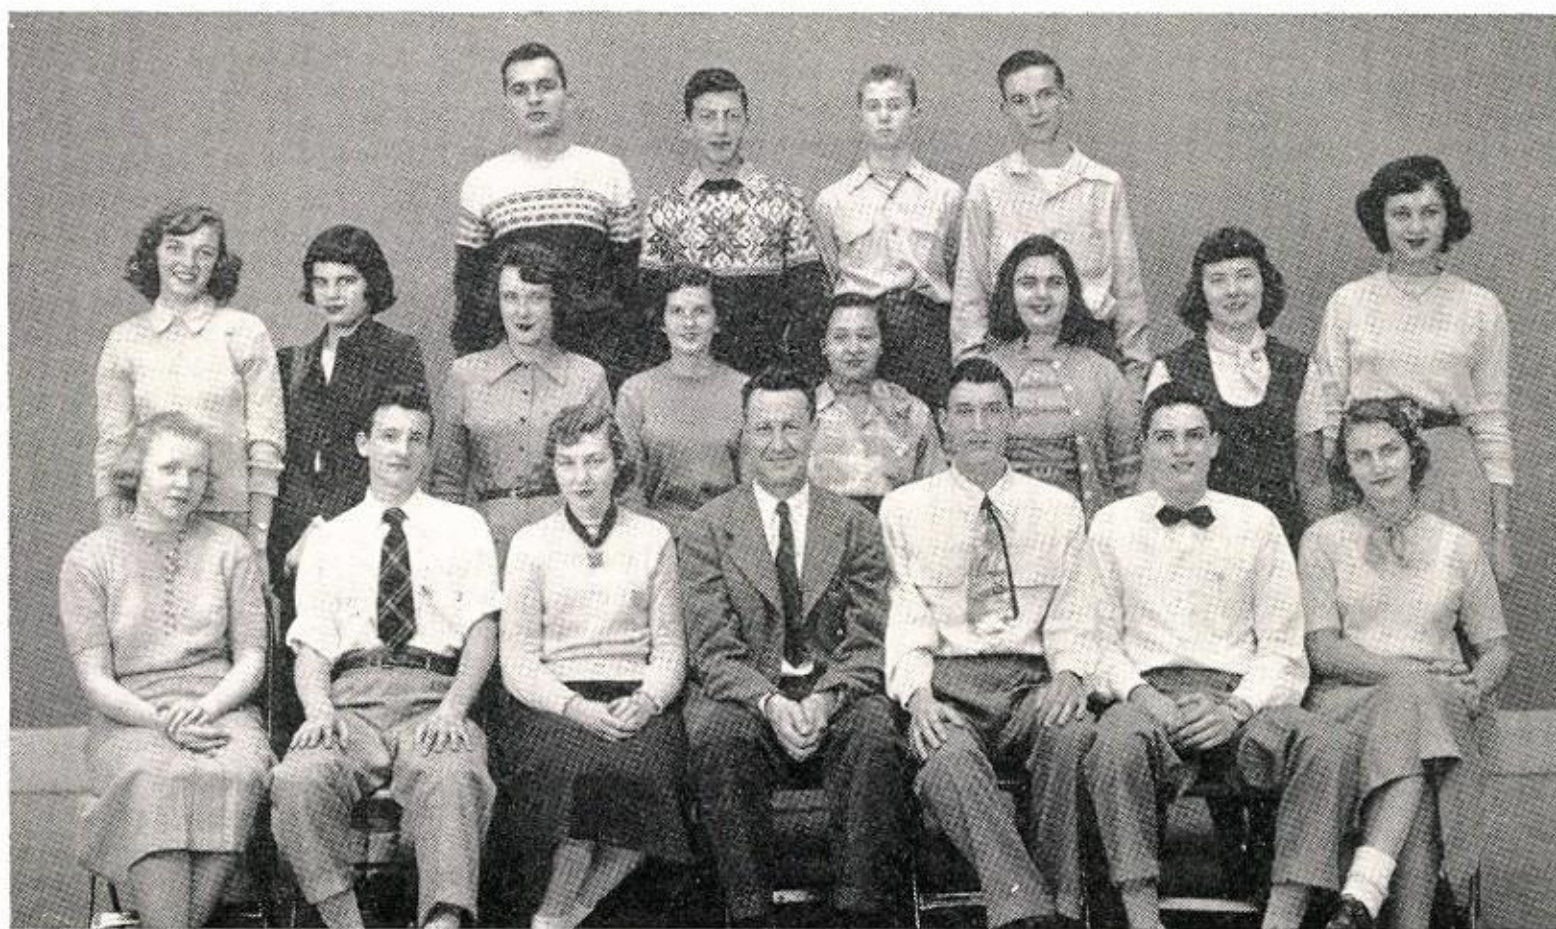

The English Club is noted throughout the school as one of the oldest organizations. It seeks to reflect the pleasure that may be obtained from English without the classroom as a background. The varied program of the club seems to improve every year and this year even more so. In addition to seeing a play and going on their annual picnic, the club sponsored a talk by Dr. Noyes of Yale University, who spoke on Freshman English in college. None of the club's members, whether seniors or juniors, are likely to forget these lively meetings and their educational value.

The Debating Club has offered a real opportunity for student expression on many controversial issues. Its monthly meetings have been mostly informal roundtable and panel discussions, rather than formal debates. The club members have often discussed issues of national scope. However, many of the meetings concerned problems of our school or local affairs. The club also planned debating contests with similar groups in neighboring high schools. The members finished the year with a party which certainly healed any of the friendships broken in hot debate!

Ne Parlez pas Anglais or "Don't speak English," with an added "if you can possibly avoid it" is understood during this club's meetings. Among other things this year, members saw a French movie, heard talks by people who have been abroad, including a boy who lived in Switzerland, and visited a museum. Of course, belonging to the club doesn't guarantee an "A" opposite French on the little headache-cards every month; but, the object being to stimulate interest in and keep up to date on France, it does give the members practice in speaking and understanding the language.

Spanish-speaking students gathered once a month, not only to gain a speaking knowledge of Spanish, but also to have an enjoyable time. The club, including the business meeting, was conducted entirely "en espanol." Trips were taken and speakers were obtained to talk on a variety of subjects, all of which were presented in Spanish. To finish the year, the club had "un alegre celebracion." The members gained a general knowledge of Castillian countries and their customs, as well as fluency in Spanish.

LATIN CLUB

President	Patsy Rak
Vice-President	Carlton Brown
Secretary	Helen Berger
Treasurer	Helen Skendarian
Program Chairman	Nancy Neagle
Adviser	Miss Elizabeth Jewett

This club was established for the purpose of promoting interest in the studies of Latin and Roman History. The members accomplished this by means of entertaining slides, talks concerning Ancient Rome and its customs, and parties conducted in the leisurely, lounging style of Cicero's day. The club was privileged to be entertained by Dr. George Land, who showed slides and spoke on Roman Communications. The members of the club agree that this is one of the best ways to make the study of Latin a thoroughly worthwhile and interesting experience.

Organized for the purpose of furthering the interests of future educators, this club has progressed far in its four-year history. It is at present affiliated with the National Education Association and sponsored by the Newton Federation of Teachers. As activities this year the club helped in some social settlement houses and visited some other Newton Schools. Designated members were guests at a meeting of the Boston University chapter of the Future Teachers of America. Discussions with the administrative staff of Newton High also helped the members study the problems of handling students.

Ten members of the International Club represented Newton High School at the United Nations conference held at Beaver Country Day last fall, where they were entertained by internationally famous statesmen. The members of the club conducted a radio broadcast on an international problem. Lectures, discussions, and movies added to the interest of the club's activities. This club provided not only information, but a lot of fun, too.

This club was perhaps one of the most active in the school. In the fall, fire-arms were the main topic under discussion, with emphasis on safety in use. Individual projects, a study of hunting and fishing laws, conservation, and pollution of streams were topics for the winter's program. Toward the end of the year, the whole school was invited to a demonstration on various types of casting by experts. This led up to the club's final meeting — a fishing trip which made use of the knowledge gained during the year.

GIRLS' LEADER CORPS

Adviser Miss Tyson

Girls are not chosen for this organization according to their athletic ability, but for their ability to assist the gym teachers in gym classes and after-school sports. Also, it is their job to plan and assist at the All Girls' Assembly and the grand finale, the Athletic Banquet. Here, letters, certificates, and sometimes special "degrees" are awarded to those who have been outstanding in one way or another during the year.

The Junior Red Cross Council's many and varied activities included helping the senior Red Cross stage a mock atomic bomb disaster, visiting the Boston Blood Bank, conducting the Junior Red Cross drive, and signing up volunteers for Nurse's Aide training at the Newton-Wellesley Hospital. Their activities are not confined to the school year however, for they send delegates to Junior Red Cross conferences and conventions in the summer. The Junior Red Cross Council, though only two years old here at Newton High School, has gained a large following and proved its usefulness to the school and community.

The Library Club members worked in the teachers' professional library, the sample textbook library, the Junior College Library, and their own high school library in Building I. Their work included running errands from one library to another, carrying messages all over the school, and marking and filing books. Through these activities the members were not only of great service to the school, but also became acquainted with the various facilities of the libraries. The club trip this year was to the Christian Science Monitor. They also held their annual party.

Newton High had first-hand weather reports, as the members of the club made daily readings and posted them on the bulletin board in Building II. They rotated in groups of three, and used S blocks to observe and take notes of the weather conditions. Temperature, barometer pressure, wind direction, and velocity were only a few things that Newton's "weathermen" recorded permanently.

Unusually high membership this year made the annual trips to Bedford Airport and Harvard Meteorological Station at Blue Hills all the more enjoyable.

MOTION PICTURE SQUAD

Adviser Mr. Michael Gradone

Few people realize the outstanding service rendered to the school and community by the Motion Picture Squad. This group of boys operates all the visual aids equipment for the teachers and pupils in the school. The members are on call for all extra-curricular activities. In addition, they have spent valuable time and operating skill in running equipment for Scout and church groups, P. T. A., Community Chest, Red Cross, and many other organizations. Recently they have made many recordings of the Newton Schools' radio broadcasts and various programs and assemblies of the school. For sharing their valuable knowledge of operating we certainly owe much appreciation to the Motion Picture Squad.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

ORCHESIS

Adviser Miss Jane Cronin

The members of the Orchesis enjoyed a very active season in the club's second year of existence. The girls attended concerts of such well-known dance artists as Ted Shawn, Jean Ergman, Jose Limon, and the Boston Dance League. They sponsored a master lesson with Jean Leondestine in which nine other local schools participated. The club was shown movies of dancing techniques and famous dances. They participated in the Spring Musical and danced with the Boston Dance Group. All these activities fulfilled the club's purpose, to cultivate an interest in all types of dancing.

The members of the Outing Club had only one requirement for membership, a willingness to participate in its many activities. This club is very enthusiastic about its activities, which include hiking, skiing, ice-skating, bowling, and swimming. The feature of the club was its two all-day outings in the fall and spring. It held two meetings a month, one for business, and the other for an outing. Even with its full schedule, this club offered its services to the promotion of school spirit and co-operation.

What girl doesn't want to be popular, dress stylishly, develop poise, and have many friends? These are just a few examples of what the Personality Club aims to teach its members. During the past year the club had speakers, saw movies, discussed the proper way to entertain, and also held a party to demonstrate what they had learned. They discussed what a good personality is and how to achieve good grooming. They put on a fashion show after attending Filene's annual show. Through these programs the Personality Club showed its members how to become "slick chicks" instead of "drips."

Many students who have been in total ignorance about a radio have received valuable knowledge about it through the Radio Club. The monthly meeting times have been taken with lectures and actual practice in rebuilding and repairing radios. Some of the members have even built complete radios and powerful transmitters. Recently, the club has taken an added interest in the new field of television. Annual trips have been taken in the past to museums with electronic displays, to radio stations, and to M.I.T. Also, exhibitions have been entered in the Newton High School Science Fair.

"Who are the ones responsible for all the clever jingles?" is a question frequently asked during the football season. Those responsible are the members of the hard-working Rally Committee. All through the year they dream up jingles, slogans, and other ideas to arouse enthusiasm for the athletic contests in which the high school participates. A great deal of credit is due to these spirited guys and gals for the large turnouts at the rallies and games. Hats off to the Rally Committee and cheerleaders for a hard job well done!

This year the Science Club did much to arouse student interest in the sciences. Through the club's many activities, the members became more conscious of nature's gifts. They visited the M. I. T. laboratories, where they saw the large high-voltage generator and they also visited the new science museum on the Charles River. The main project of the year was the very successful Science Fair held this spring.

The Rifle Club has shot to great success since its beginning just three years ago. The girl as well as boy membership has grown so much that the club is now divided into two groups for their weekly schedule of shooting at the West Newton Armory. This past year the club has had matches with Waltham, Malden, and others. They also had a team in the American Legion Tournament, as well as in a newly formed league which includes Waltham, Watertown, and Newton. A highlight of this season was their annual outing to the Sharon Rod and Gun Club. Besides their active practice on Fridays, the club members also enjoyed regular monthly meetings in which they conducted business, viewed movies, and received National Rifle Association ratings awarded for their marksmanship.

This year, as always, the Social Room saw many faces — interested ones the first day, sad ones after report cards, happy ones the day before vacations, and tired ones the day after vacations. Every morning from 8:10 to 8:25 it was crowded with students playing cards and games, reading, listening to records and the radio, and talking. The room was also open to the student body Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday afternoons, Monday and Thursday being reserved for special activities. The student hosts and hostesses once more performed a wonderful service by making the Social Room so pleasant.

The Speakers' Bureau has been a vital organization this past year. The group has been instrumental in arousing much interest in speech in class rooms and school activities. The bureau has been at the disposal of all organizations within the school and in the community. An investigation was made this year of the needs of speech within the school. Certainly, the members of the Speakers' Bureau have gained practical and valuable speaking experience and have helped through their service many worthy organizations.

Tusitala was the club for those students interested in creative writing. This selected group of boys and girls, who some day hope to be authors, playwrights, or poets, gathered once a month in the Thurber Room to praise, criticize, and comment upon each other's masterpieces. Among the activities for the year they compiled an anthology of the poetry written by Newtonites during the last quarter century, assembled material for the annual issue of the club magazine, Potluck, and considered manuscripts submitted by pupils desiring membership in the club. Their meeting also included an annual Open House, outings, and many informal discussions.

This year's Workshop in Leadership and Community Life was composed of thirty-six seniors and juniors, twenty girls and sixteen boys. The 1950-51 group's main objective was an exchange visit with Clark Summit, Pennsylvania, during the spring vacation. However, before they embarked on their journey they spent many hours in research work and fund-raising projects. Their agenda included a visit to United Nations' headquarters in New York. The purpose of this group's activities is to broaden their viewpoints and better understand the problems of a different section of America.

The Boys' Chorus, a selected group of fifty members, was an organization for hard work and enjoyment this year.

During the fall, college songs were emphasized, and following that, Christmas carols. "Stout Hearted Men," "Shortnin' Bread," "Yankee Chanty," "Winter Song," "Donkey Serenade," "Rigoletto Quartet," and songs from musicals were sung during the year.

The biggest events of the year were participation in the spring musical, "On Your Mark," and particularly, the sponsoring of the Brown University Glee Club. The Boys' Chorus also sang a number with the Brown Glee Club, showing to the whole school their progress during the year.

Juniors and Seniors who were interested in the field of drama, were again given a chance to display their talent and gain experience in this club. The September try-outs determined the limited membership, however, and only the most promising candidates were chosen. Among their rather professional productions of the year were the Christmas tableaux and The Winslow Boy, given in February. A theatre party was held to see the play I Know My Love with Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne. At their meetings, the members heard guest speakers, reviewed plays, and were once entertained by a group from the Bishop-Lee School, which performed monologues and short sections from plays.

"Push back, folks, give her room!" shouts a reporter, grasping a microphone. "Now, Miss X, where did you first start acting?"

The famous actress smiles, reminisces, then explains, "As a Neophyte at Newton High School" — It's possible. Of course, not every member of the club has these visions, but the sophomores are given a start in dramatics. For activities this year, the group participated in a talent show, enacted a skit, and put on a one-act play at a sophomore assembly.

The Orange Book is a pocket-size manual explaining the operation of Newton High School. It contains a floor plan of the school and information on the school government, clubs, sports, and faculty. The staff members work in May and June to prepare the booklet for the following season. This year several revisions were made in the writing of the book. After reading past Orange Books and finding them too verbose, the staff introduced a new idea of describing the clubs and sports in outline form, so that the reader could get a clearer picture of each activity. Last June the staff members visited the junior high schools and sold tickets which would be redeemed the next fall for copies of the Orange Book.

Editor-in-Chief John Arnold
Adviser Mr. Roland Heintzelman

Short stories, poetry, essays, anecdotes, and squibs were all in the Literary Magazine. This all-student publication was successfully presented in May this year. Its sixty-four pages offered a grand chance for creative writing. The organization, which is sponsored by the Department of English, edited last year a wonderful collection of children's stories entitled Clarence. A second edition was printed this year, due to its great popularity. Certainly, we can all recollect in future years our first published attempts and claims to fame which appeared in the Literary Magazine.

EDITORIAL STAFF

The Journalism Class, which met twice a week, published the school paper. In the first half of the year, first-year students wrote the articles, while the editors and second-year students saw that the paper was published. As the year went on, first-year students took on more responsibilities. Editors were elected four times during the year, which gave many people a chance to gain experience from actually putting out a newspaper.

ADVERTISING STAFF

The members of the Ad Staff were the salesmen for the Newtonite. They divided according to villages, with captains, to try to obtain ads. They also set up the dummy copy to be sent to the printer. FOOTBALL

The 1950 football squad will long be ranked as one of Coach Warren Huston's best. Opposition was keen throughout the season, but thanks to a powerful forward wall and an equally potent backfield, the Garden City eleven enjoyed a winning season, tasting victory in five out of nine games. After beating Belmont and Melrose in the initial games of the campaign, the Tigers suffered consecutive heartbreaking defeats at the hands of mighty Brockton, Watertown, and Arlington. This fighting juggernaut, however, climaxed the season by winning three of its last four outings, highlighted by a vengeful 40-0 defeat of arch-rival Brookline. The consistent ground gaining of Co-Captain Bob Shannon, who tallied seventy-two points, the pounding tackles of Dan Coffey, and the inspiring line play of Co-Captain John Dutton spearheaded a successful year on the gridiron for the Orange and Black.

BASKETBALL

The prospects for a successful 1950-51 basketball season were not promising early in the year. Although Newton did defeat Belmont and Medford in pre-season non-league games, they were able to win only two of their first four league games. Suddenly, the Tigers roared and went on to win eight consecutive league encounters and finished in a tie with Watertown for the Suburban League Championship. The Garden City and Watertown quintets engaged in a playoff game, the winner to enter the Eastern Massachusetts Tech Tourney. The Smithmen emerged the victor in one of the most exciting games of the year, with Brooks Parker putting in two foul shots in the final seconds of overtime play! The fine board work of Scotty Price, the fight, speed, and playmaking of Duke McGaw, John Krieder, and Dick Fitzpatrick, and the dead eye of Fred Dauten led Newton in acquiring a 10-2 league record and an overall record of 12-4.

Coach Mr. Reginald Smith

HOCKEY

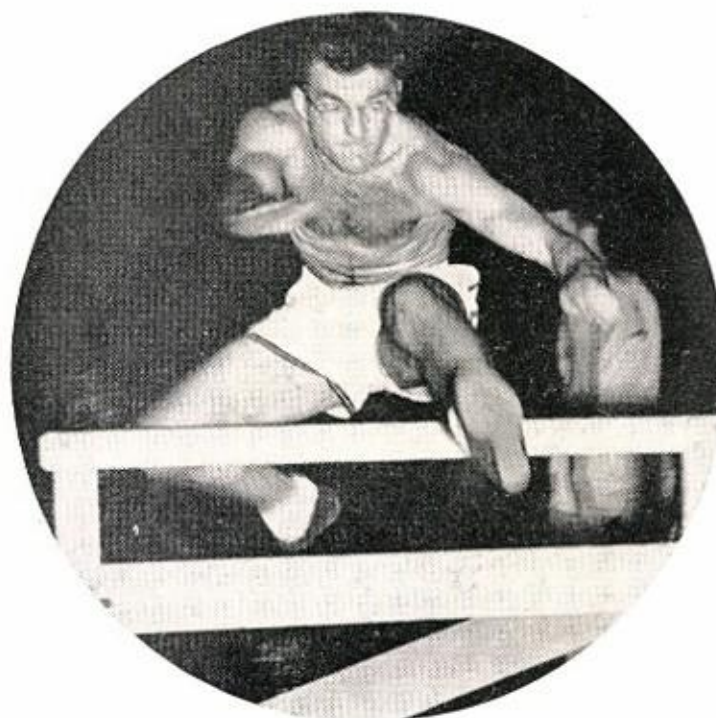

Although they got off to a poor start, the 1951 Newton hockey team rebounded. They suffered just one setback in their final six games and finished third in the Greater Boston Interscholastic League. All-Star Doug Manchester led the Tigers to their highly successful season by scoring over half the team's goals! After gaining just a tie in the first four outings, the Garden City sextet pulled off consecutive upsets against Stoneham and Belmont. Co-Captain Manchester spearheaded both victories by scoring the hat trick against Stoneham and then tallying four goals in the Belmont game. Just before they entered the playoffs, in which they tied Rindge Tech and scored 3-2 triumphs over Stoneham and Medford, The Hallmen were shut out by league champion Cambridge Latin. Highlights of the bright campaign were the consistent scoring of Manchester, the hustle and fight of co-captain Don Thompson and Joe Cavallo, and the stellar defensive work of Johnny Walker, Fred Sutherland, and goalie Dan Coffey.

INDOOR TRACK

The indoor track team enjoyed another outstanding season. The excellent coaching of Boyle, Consodine, and Gallagher saw the Terriers win all of its dual meets, capture its tenth Northeastern title, and finish just fourth from the top in the State Meet. Because of their reputation as a power in the track circles, Newton had a tough time scheduling meets. They routed both Watertown and Lowell, and whipped the Golden Tornado of Malden by the lopsided score of 53-24. The Northeastern Meet saw the Orange and Black win with twenty-two points, without the aid of a first in any event! The State Meet was a bit of a disappointment, but the Garden City finished a respectable fourth with eleven points. The names of Johnny Tripp in the 300, Captain Norm DiGiovanni in the hurdles, Bob Shannon in the 50-yard dash, Bob Morrison in the 600, and Dave Savoy in the high jump, stood out all through the 1951 season.

OUTDOOR TRACK

The return of several lettermen and a successful indoor season augur well for a big year for the Newton High outdoor track team. The team will be headed by such lettermen as Norm DiGiovanni in the low hurdles, Bob Shannon in the broad jump and dash, John Tripp in the 100 or 220 and shot put, George Flynn and Bob Morrison in the 440, and Dave Savoy in the high jump. An abundance of promising talent rounds out the squad. An innovation in the 1951 edition of the Boiler-makers is the addition of the pole vault to the regular schedule of eight track and three field events. Coach Malcolm Gallagher, speaking for Coach Lamoine Boyle and himself, said, "We should do well in the State Relays at Belmont, which Newton won last year, breaking two records, and the Relays at the University of Massachusetts. Prospects of winning the State Meet are also excellent."

Coaches { Mr. Lamoine Boyle
Mr. Malcolm Gallagher

BASEBALL

Coach Howard Ferguson has high hopes of a successful 1951 baseball season. The Tigers will be strengthened by the return of several lettermen and also an excellent crop of newcomers from the Junior Varsity and Sophomore teams. The pitching staff might well develop into one of the finest mound crews that the Garden City has seen in recent years. Two right handers, Bob Schlosberg and Gibby Studley, are expected to do most of the pitching. Much aid is also expected from the arm work of Ronnie Rufo, Fred Sutherland, Art Perkins, and Bob Bounato. Al Phinney and Barkey Boole will be back again at first and third base respectively, while Don Flagg and Dave Bonnar, or John Krieder and Neil Campbell should supplement in giving the Tigers an airtight infield. John Higgins, Fred Keith, Dan Coffey, and Don Thompson will spell "outfield" for the Garden City nine, while the catching problem has been solved with the installation of Fred Dauten, outfielder of a year ago, and Lee Carder. With plenty of experience, a power laden batting order, and a sensational pitching staff, the outlook for the 1951 baseball team is brilliant.

BOYS' TENNIS

Defend that title! That's the cry of the Newton tennis team and its coach, Ed Poskitt. In 1950 the Tigers went all the way, winning the state championship. This year Newton will field two hold-over veterans in Jack Bailey and John Marshall. Besides Bailey and Marshall, coach Poskitt figures to round out the squad with some excellent material from last year's junior varsity. The reputation of Newton in the tennis ranks has always been a high one and this year the Orange and Black scheduled approximately ten matches with top flight competition. Fight and determination was displayed throughout the season.

Coach Ed Poskitt

GOLF

The 1951 golf team, under the coaching of Mr. Jack Hall, will attempt the unenviable task of defending the State Championship. The outlook for keeping the name of Newton on top of schoolboy golf ranks is questionable. Only two veterans will be returning from last year's championship squad; thus most of the team will be comprised of inexperienced golfers. It can be assured, however, that the Garden City golfers will display much determination and give it their utmost in attempting to defend Newton's distinction as state champion in golf.

FIELD HOCKEY

Another successful season for those gals in orange and black! Undefeated for thirty-six games, eleven played this year, our hockey teams have shown excellent spirit, cooperation, sportsmanship, and ability. The outstanding game of the fall was Newton vs. Walpole. Although Walpole had been undefeated for seven years, Newton came through with a hard-fought 6-0 victory! The forward line combination of Kuebler, Moss, Morse, and Wallace rushed continually forward despite all opposition, while the defence including Rando, Manley, Olsen, Lehrer, and Wayman loomed like a brick wall before the opponents' offence. Working together, the two lines put the team on top and gave NHS a record of which to be proud.

GIRLS' BASKET BALL

"C'mon girls, let's go-o-!" That cheer has seen our basketball varsities through many a tough situation and has kept them on top. With the cooperation and team-work displayed by such girls as Bev Moss, Joan Manley, Mary Costanzo, Pat Morse, Jane Wallace, and Marilyn Tanner, Newton has managed to defeat Melrose, Cambridge Latin, Watertown, Weston, and other rivals. Although these girls will be missing from next year's teams, the Sophs and Juniors will move up and carry on the fine example of fair play and team spirit which has been demonstrated by our varsities this year.

SOFTBALL

Softball, a four-year-old varsity sport in which Newton has been undefeated, again attracted a large group of enthusiasts who showed plenty of spirit and ability. The girls worked constantly to improve techniques and team play. Their efforts were rewarded. After much practice, they rose to their height in big games against Melrose, Winchester, Watertown, and Windsor. Credit for their successful season goes both to the varsity members, including some old "pros" such as Bev Moss, Pat Morse, Joan Manley, Marilyn Tanner, Jeanette Costa, Joan Daniels, and Valerie Kuebler, and to all other girls who worked faithfully throughout the season.

GIRLS' TENNIS

After an undefeated season in 1950, the tennis girls took up their rackets for another sparkling year. The varsity was made up of about fifteen members who rotated for each tournament. Three singles and two doubles were played with each school; this year's competition came from Hingham, Melrose, Brookline, Cambridge Latin, Watertown, Belmont, Winchester, and Needham. Three Seniors who left their impressive records to be carried on by Sophs and Juniors, are Sonya Frutkin, Sally O'Neil, and Virginia Murphy. The girls are given every opportunity to play in the varsity games, since the team is not limited as in many other high schools.

MODERN DANCE

The Modern Dance Group, sponsored by the Orchesis and the Girls' Gym Department, spent many afternoons this year practicing and perfecting dance techniques. This popular activity is divided into three classes, according to the ability of each girl; the Apprentice, Workshop, and Performer.

The groups participated in several performances besides attending theatre exhibitions. They were hosts to many high schools at the second annual symposium, entertained on the Spring Parents' Afternoon, and did several dances in the Spring Musical, On Your Mark. The Performer class, being the most experienced, was especially active in the various Modern Dance Group programs.

TRADE SCHOOL BASKETBALL

Paced by the league's high scorer, Eddie O'Keefe, the Newton Trade basketball team enjoyed a highly successful season. Besides the consistent scoring of O'Keefe, this vocational quintet was also sparked by the outstanding offensive and defensive work of Ronnie MacDonald and the brilliant play-making of John Pope. The Trade School hoopsters posted a league record of eight wins and six losses, while gaining a total season mark of ten triumphs against six setbacks. Long to be remembered were the 43-42 battle with Lynn and the two exciting Everett encounters. In the words of Coach Frank Daley: "I was very pleased with this year's record and look forward to an even better season next year, since I will lose only two lettermen and will have both MacDonald and O'Keefe back to spark-plug our team."

Be it remembered that we, the senior class of 1951, being of unsound mind, and even unsound memory, and until now in full possession of the faculty, do hereby bequeath, devise, assign, grant, bestow, and sling out the window all our worldly goods pertaining to N. H. S., apportioning them as follows, to wit (and I use the term loosely):

- Firstly: We bequeath in general to our still-suffering successors the following:
- A private cafeteria in every cloakroom for S block use
 - Soothing door chimes to replace jangling bells
 - Disappearing red ink for report cards
 - Non-stick folding partitions in the gym
 - No-school signals the night before so that students may slumber on undisturbed in the morning
 - Chrome and leather fixtures and drive-in facilities for the cafeteria
 - A four-color, seventy-page Newtonite (fun for the journalism class)
 - The real McCoy in fire drills
 - Radiators under the stadium seats
 - The Thing
- Secondly: We bequeath to the following groups:
- To the faculty — electrified grass to discourage short-cutters
 - To the Orange Shield — an electronic eye to detect food being smuggled out
 - To the teachers, en masse — one dozen gross of red pencils and one pencil sharpener
 - To the Anti-Smoking Committee — more study periods
 - To all chemistry classes — the valence table
 - To homeroom teachers — vacuum cleaners for emptying the light globes
 - To the stage crew — accident insurance
 - To the Cavalry Club — padded saddles
 - To the hockey team — a Newtonville Garden
 - To the office staff — a pair of scissors (for cutting red tape)
 - To study hall teachers — X-ray vision
 - To First Aid classes — plastic dummies to practice on in place of real ones
- And Lastly: We bequeath in particular to the following individuals:
- To Dr. Land — all-boy classes
 - To Miss Tyson — a hockey team like this year's
 - To Mr. Smith — a TV show all his own
 - To Mr. Hall — two extra hours of chemistry per class each week
 - To Mr. Heintzelman — one scarecrow (for his vegetable garden)
 - To Mr. Holmes — a dictaphone to record his assignments
 - To Miss Bates — a short French course
 - To Miss Kennedy — the other earring
 - To Miss Leathers — a 36-hour day
 - To Mr. Conners — a stiff left jab

AND to Mr. Green, Dr. Drake, and Mr. Barry — as model a class to fill our shoes as we have been.

Thus, having duly made known our wishes, and having executed a great deal more than this last will and testament in our three years at N. H. S., we do hereunto affix our hand and the Good Housekeeping Seal of Approval.

We're off!

September 11, 1950, found the class of 1952 back under the jurisdiction of the School Department again, but in a new status, which would be all our own for the year 1950-1951. We were juniors, in our second year at Newton High, which, in a four-year high school, corresponds to the sophomore year, whence the adjective "sophomoric."

And we were sophomoric, thank goodness! — a healthy manifestation of our spirit, untrampled by our times.

Although nothing happened during this year to set us apart from other junior classes, we were in a position to enjoy school life. Unlike the sophs, we knew where 127, 314, and the Main Office were, and who goes to these places for what reasons, what blue cards are for, and which is Building Three. Nor were we, like the seniors, worried by thoughts of colleges and careers, the spectre of college boards, and the twinges of nostalgia that beset many who leave the top of one heap for the bottom of another. (We were still on the way to the top.) We were wonderful, magnificent.

Perplexed, yet somehow confident and eager to face life at Newton High, the new sophomore class had gathered together in the assembly hall to hear Mr. Green give the introductory address. On the stage stood the Great White Father of the Main Office, opening the gates of this noble institution to several hundred curious, noisy kids.

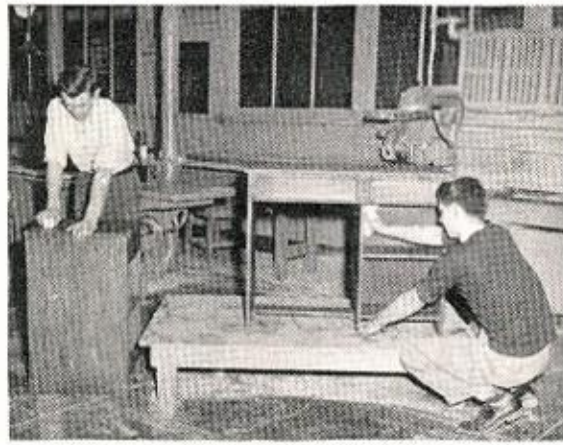

We remember well those blessed days when we were half an hour late for our first class because we were lost on the sixth floor of the rambling yellow hulk known familiarly as Building One. Who can forget the time some poor devil took the wrong entrance to the tunnel and ended up in the Park Street subway station?

Since those days we have succeeded in our struggle to become recognized, to "belong" to a group. We have joined clubs, committees, and teams. And even though that heartless English teacher was awfully strict and our unfeeling math instructor gave out more homework than anyone else in the school, most of us actually managed to avoid acquiring any knowledge whatsoever from our classes!

Thus, with a prayer in our hearts and an Orange Book in our pockets, we stand ready to face our next years at Newton High. We may have entered as kids, but we will graduate as men and women, won't we, sophomores?

CONCLUSION

Now we have reached the end of a voyage which represents three of the best years of our lives. At the beginning, we encountered many new personalities; toward the end, our crew was a united one, despite its great size.

We shall long remember this journey as a period of growth in wisdom and maturity. We anticipate confidently our life in the new land where we have just disembarked. As we leave the shore, we cast a backward glance at our ship. We shall miss the happy crew; nevertheless, we are eager to seek our fortunes in the New World.

What Are You Going to Do Next Year?

Perhaps we can help you decide.

The EDUCATIONAL ADVISORY CENTER maintains a service for parents and students needing advice and information on the selection of a preparatory school, trade school, or college. The Center has a complete catalogue reference library and its counselors are experienced in recommending schools in accordance with the aims and capabilities of the student.

A complete testing program is available at moderate rates.

There is no charge for an interview, nor any obligation on your part.

Visit, phone, or write
